

IES SANTA BÁRBARA (Málaga .España)

The impact of an Erasmus study period abroad for mobile students and teaching assignments of Erasmus teachers on professional development is crucial for us. Temporary study abroad is expected to have a positive impact on personal and academic development, but also to be conducive to transition to employment and career development. Though the impact has been declining, study abroad remains an important experience for the professional career. Erasmus teaching and training assignments often do not last longer than a few days, nevertheless, mobile teachers report a positive impact on their career

For more information about us and the Erasmus + program:

<http://www.iessantabarbara.es/>

<http://www.iessantabarbara.es/proyectos/proyectos.htm>

https://eacea.ec.europa.eu/erasmus-plus_en

If you wish to contact us , please don't hesitate to write. We are widely open to collaboration with European countries, as well as, associated countries.

We have experience sending and hosting teachers and students for training to other countries for more than 12 years with a great success for those who come to us and the ones who go abroad. Our network of partner countries and also partner enterprises, hospitals, laboratories in all of our branches, make us the biggest healthcare institution in Malaga province, as well as one of the biggest in all Andalusia region.

For further information, please don't hesitate to contact us

29700333.edu@juntadeandalucia.es

Isabel, García Plazas
i.g.plazas.edu@juntadeandaluca.es

Department of Educational and European Plans and Projects
IES Santa Bárbara. Málaga